BUILDERS' HARDWARE AND TYPEWRITERS IN DEMAND.

(Special Correspondence.) Washington, Aug. 22.-Exports of American tools and machinery do not show the shrinkage in volume which recent reports would indicate. Some concern has been expressed by leading export houses by reason of a falling off in foreign orders, due to the high prices of iron and steel. In this connection it | Pneumatic Transmission of Mail to will be interesting to note that the exports of builders' hardware, saws and tools during the fiscal year 1900, were the biggest in the history of our export trade, being $9,646,017, against $7,842,372 in 1899, $6,627,466 in 1897, and $5,509,188 postoffice department as follows: in 1896, prior to which year the exports in this line had never aggregated so much as $5,060,000. In exports of sewing machines, typewriters, electrical and other intricate machinery, there are also gratifying increases. Compar ing the export figures of the fiscal year just ended with those of 1898 and 1899, it is found that sewing machines increased from $3,136,364 in 1898, and $3,-264,344 in 1899, to $4,549,842 in 1990; electrical results of the second series of the first second sec trical machinery from $2,052,564 in 1898 and $2,736,110 in 1899, to $4,328,917 in 1900 locomotive engines, from $3,883,719 in 1898, to $5,592,403 in 1900; typewriters from $1,902,153 in 1898, to $2,697,544 in 1900; metal working machinery, from $4,618,683 in 1898, to $7,193,390 in 1900; and all other machinery, from $13,336,-930 in 1898, to $21,913,202 in 1900.

Machinery Sold In Far East.

While our chief market for machin-ery is still to be found in European ountries, an increasing proportion is eing sold in the far east, especially in British Australasia, Japan and In-dia. In 1898 our exports of builders' hardware and tools to British Australasia amounted to $577,635, in 1900 they aggregated $1,325,793; in 1898 our exports in this line to Japan were $76,509. ports in this line to Japan were $76,500, while in 1900 they were $106,251. Our exports of typewriters to British Australasia in 1898 amounted to $60,039, while in the fiscal year 1900 they were $101,002; to Japan the exports of typewriters in 1898 amounted to but $4,220; in 1899 they had increased to $7,262, and in 1900 to $16,579, of which sum $2,211 were exported during the month of June alone, thus forecasting in some June alone, thus forecasting in some degree the possibilities of future development in this article of export.

Big Demand For Typewriters.

Commenting upon the increase in ex-ports of typewriters, a prominent American manufacturer is quoted by the New York Commercial as saying: "The demand for American typewriters was never greater, and our ma-chines are pretty good globe-trotters. We have just made a shipment to Puntas Arenas, on the Straits of Magellan, at the extreme southern point of South America, and another lot of typewriters has been sent north to Vladivostock, Russia, for the use of the mperial government. Many of the missionaries and foreign business m ippines has from three to five ma-chines; and as business increases at Manila under American auspices, there will be a big demand for typewriters. The typewriter has become well-nigh universal in its use, and is found in all the large business houses in the principal cities of the world, and its keyboard represents nearly all languages.
The exceptions are the Japanese and Chinese. As their characters are upright and composed of many hundred figures or signs it seems practically impossible to produce them on the type-writer's keyboard."

Table Showing Exports. Table Showing Exports.

The following table shows the exports of builders' tools and hardware, sewing machines and typewriters from the United States in each fiscal year from 1890 to 1900. The exports of typewriters cannot be separately shown for years prior to 1897, as prior to 1897 typewriters were published in the reports of the treasury bureau of statistics under the general head, "Machinery, not elsewhere specified."

MAKES CANAL PROPOSAL. Nicaragua Said to Have Approached

United States. New York, Aug. 25.—General P. Alexander, who was appointed by President Cleveland arbitrator in the boundary dispute between Nicaragua and Costa Rica, has just returned from those countries on the completion of his mission.

An interesting feature of General Alexander's work lay in the fact that his labors on the boundary questions were the cause of a close survey of the line of the proposed Nicaragua canal. He said that he did not think the commission now preparing a report would ad-sion now preparing a report would advise a new route.

While disclaiming definite knowledge on the subject, he was inclined to think that a proposition from the Nicaraguan government to ours had already been made. He believed that, rather than not have the canal built, the Nicaraguan government would accede to almost any terms made by the cede to almost any terms made by the United States.
